Major Burton A. Adams

in recognition of his new position as Principal, and in appreciation of the splendid work accomplished as a member of our faculty for thirty-five years.

TECH TIGER

Harry B. Marsh

After twenty-two years of faithful service to Tech as teacher and principal, Mr. Harry B. Marsh was advanced to a higher position thereby becoming able to apply his invaluable knowledge and experience to a wider field. Because we lacked an auditorium we were unable to express our regret at his leaving us, and our congratulations on his promotion.

Therefore, we take this opportunity to thank Mr. Harry B. Marsh for his great love for Tech, and to bid him a parting farewell together with the best wishes for success.

The Jack Elmer Memorial Debating Trophy

THE JACK ELMER MEMORIAL DEBATING TROPHY is dedicated to the memory of John Herbert Elmer of the class of 1933. This memorial is so dedicated because Jack was a true Techite, participating in school activities, and excellent in scholarship, in spite of severe physical handicaps. It is a perpetual trophy to be competed for by an annual debate between the Comitia and the Forum. Through these debates, the clubs hope to keep alive the Tech spirit and enthusiasm which Jack Elmer so truly manifested during his days with us at Tech.

The first debate was won by the Forum in 1933. Due to building conditions, no debate was possible last year.

HIGH HONORS AT TECH

THE CHARLES F. WARNER ACHIEVEMENT MEDALS are the highest awards which can be won by students at Tech. They are awarded semi-annually on the judgment of a committee consisting of two alumni, four faculty members, two representatives from each of the 12A and 12B classes, and the 11A class president, to the boy and girl in the graduating class who have shown outstanding attributes of scholarship, citizenship, and leadership. These medals recognize not only scholastic standing, but other characteristics necessary to success. This much prized award stands as a living memorial to Charles F. Warner, the founder and first principal of the school.

Three-year Honors, a Tech tradition, are won by those students who have done outstanding work in their studies. The awards are based largely upon office records with the approval of the faculty. School citizenship and school spirit are important elements in making the choice.

Charles F. Warner Achievement Medal

January 1935

DOROTHY SEBRING

Dorothy Sebring did not disappoint those who knew her when she was awarded the Warner Achievement Medal. This quiet, unassuming girl knew not what personal glory meant. She executed every duty assigned to her in the most quiet and efficient manner. When the members of the class intrusted her with the Vice-Presidency of the class in her Senior Year, it was shown that she was not only a ready follower but a capable leader. The fact that she was a member of the Jr. and Sr. Pro Merito, serving as secretary in the latter, coupled with her enviable school record, is ample evidence of her high academic achievements. For a girl like Dorothy this was not enough; she simply had to participate in the sports program offered at Tech. She excelled in all sports throughout her three years. With this brief summary of Dorothy's attainments, is it any wonder that she was presented the highest award Tech can give to the most deserving girl student?

PAUL MAZZAFERRO

The January '35 winner of the Warner Achievement Medal was not only preeminent in activities outside the regular school curriculum, but also in the classroom. Ample proof was given of his ability as a leader when he was elected President of his class the first and second year. His leading power was so dominating that he was invariably chosen to some responsible position. When still a Junior he was given by the Student Council the important office of chairman of the Traffic Committee. He was the first student to act in this capacity, for before this time the Traffic Squad was under faculty direction.

This modest boy placed class work foremost, in spite of his intense interest in school activities. He was winner of the Washington-Franklin History Medal. His scholastic record gives evidence of his attainments. Such a student was Paul Mazzaferro who fulfilled the requirements of winning Tech's highest presentation to the ideal student.

Charles F. Warner Achievement Medal

June 1935

RICHARD WILSON

This announcement caused no surprise to those students who knew Claire. Her membership in the Pro Merito Society certifies her scholastic standing while her holding the office of class secretary for three years was part of the wide range of her activities including athletics. Altogether, Claire was well liked and esteemed by many students who admire her for her achievement and her cheerful and pleasing personality. Once again the committee has awarded this high honor to a deserving student.

The awarding of Tech's highest honor to Richard Wilson was certainly unanimously acclaimed by his fellow-students. His remarkable ability as a leader was shown by his holding the class presidency for three years, and by his active participation in other student activities. His career at Tech was far from being one-sided; for while keeping an enviable scholastic record, Richard was at the same time a fine athlete. He proved to be an able, all-around student who was always ready to offer help and encouragement to his classmates. It was only right that the Warner Medal should be given to such a successful scholar and so remarkable an athlete.

History of the Class of January 1935

COUST CLOSE your eyes and let your minds travel back to that cold but eventful morning in February 1932 when this class was organized in Tech's unforgettable assembly hall where so many other classes had begun before us. When we entered Tech that morning, we were loyal supporters of our respective Junior High Schools, but before long our allegiance was for Tech 100%.

As time wore on, we decided that we needed officers to lead us and as you know Paul Mazzaferro was chosen our chief. Assisting him were Sidney Shapiro as vice-president; Margaret Moriarty as secretary; Robert Munn as treasurer; and Ruth Stebbins and James Bush as our athletic managers.

Early in the fall we found ourselves enjoying our 10A social which was just the beginning of "Chick" Shapiro's social successes.

In the early spring the nominating committee conducted the second election. The only changes were the electing of Eleanor Daboll as secretary and Thomas Mancuso as boys' athletic manager.

During the second year our first dance, "La Festa Primaverile", took us to sunny Italy in the spring while Sid's "Moonlight Promenade" reminded us of our New England nights, with the "crystal" doing a perfect substitute for the evening stars.

With the crash of jolting trucks and the rat-tat-tat-tat of rivet guns, the long needed Tech addition was under way. Because of the lack of a meeting place a Board of Directors was chosen to run the affairs of the class for the ensuing term.

Spring brought in our third election and last. What an upset. Paul relinquished his gavel to Ralph Carleton who won the election with clever promises. Assisting "Rip" were Dorothy Sebring as vice-president and Barbara March as secretary. Some way or another Robert Munn kept his hold on the money. The athletic abilities of the class were put in the hands of Ruth Twitchell and Nickos Petrou.

More dances, namely "Melody Parade" and "Senior Shuffle", showed that Sidney Shapiro could really put on a dance.

For two and a half years we had been under the leadership of our friend Mr. Marsh, but last fall he left us to become Assistant Superintendent of Schools. In spite of the fact that we miss him, we are happy to know that he has the position he has long deserved.

Next were the senior activities with Robert Munn in charge of the Senior Prom and Robert Kuhn in charge of the Banquet.

Remember that although we are now leaving Tech, our class will live on as long as we do.

ROBERT MUNN

CLASS BALLOT — January 1935

Best Girl Student ..... HAZEL REILLY

Hazel is very studious,
Success her aspiration;
Perhaps this long red pencil
Will be an inspiration.

Best Boy Student ..... NICKOS PETROU

Nickos is so very smart
In every line and phase,
We think he needs at least one "E"
To counteract his "A's".

Handsomest Boy ..... HARRY LABROAD

Harry is a ladies' man
And has no wave in his hair;
This bottle of waving lotion
May help to put one there.

Prettiest Girl ..... RUTH CHURCHILL

Ruthie's hair is always neat,
In this we are not fibbin';
To keep it thus, and all in place,
We give a brand new "ribbin".

Most Popular Girl ..... RUTH TWITCHELL

"Frisky" has many boy friends;
All have the same girl's heart;
She ought to have a calendar
To keep her dates apart.

Most Popular Boy ..... RALPH CARLETON

When "Rip" brings the girls home,
Of gas he never has much;
This pint might be a help to him
Whenever he gets in "Dutch".

Best All-Round Girl ..... ELEANOR BULLOCK

Eleanor has helped the Senior Class
In everything attempted.
This blue ribbon is her reward;
We hope she'll be contented.

Best All-Round Boy ..... JAMES VEZZOLA

Jimmie was chosen the best all-round boy,
And this is given with very much joy
In hopes that he may prove his worth
All over this "obese" little earth.

Most Bashful Boy ..... ROBERT LARSON

Our "Bashful Bobby" is learning to dance,
But he steps on his partner's toes.
Apply this polish and perchance
'Twill erase every mark that shows.

T E C H      T I C E R

Most Bashful Girl.....VELMA BERGLUND

To Velma Berglund, the undaring maid
 Who renders not a proper blush,
 We give this powder all guaranteed
 To hide any unpleasing flush.

Jolliest Girl.....OLIVE BREHART

Olive is very good-natured,
 Never blue or forlorn;
 Maybe this will keep her so,
 A can of Chase & Sanborn.

Best Girl Mixer.....ELEANOR BULLOCK

With every pun and wise remark,
 Eleanor does the defeating,
 But she must find her equal now,
 For this is good at beating.

Best Boy Mixer.....JAMES VEZZOLA

Jimmie is a concurrent lad
 And a great little fixer;
 Thus we think he should "have had"
 This gorgeous little mixer.

Class Actress.....PAULINE CARROLL

We want you all to meet her;
 We think she looks like Greta;
 With this lipstick plus her feet,
 We even think she has her beat.

Class Athlete (Girl).....RUTH TWITCHELL

Ruth can play good basketball,
 Hockey, and baseball, too.
 Here's a brand new rubber ball;
 Show us what you can do.

Class Athlete (Boy).....KENNETH STEUP

"Ken's" not fond of school work;
 His athletics won't let him do it.
 Maybe this stick of Juicy Fruit
 Would help him "STICK" right to it.

Class Orator.....PAUL MAZZAFERRO

As a speaker Paul wins honors;
 His voice is always clear;
 To preserve it we suggest
 He keep these cough drops near.

Noisiest Boy.....GEORGE TACY

We're giving this whistle
 To a noisy little boy.
 No longer need he shout at us;
 He only has to blow this toy.

Class Dancer (Boy).....VINCENT BONGIORNI

"Vinnie's" quite a dancer,
 Adept in every step;
 With this book to write them in,
 He never should forget.

T E C H N I C E R

Class Wit ..... EVERETT SIMPSON

Everett's such a little kid;
He likes his childish joke.
This big box of Corn Flakes
May make him like big folks.

Class Playboy ..... ROBERT MUNN

"Bobby" has a girl friend;
He plans to travel to and fro;
So here's another woman
When the other won't go.

Class Comedian ..... GRANVILLE HUBBARD

"Granny" likes his jokes;
He loves to pull a gag.
This book is not a hoax;
'Twill make of him a wag.

"It" Girl ..... ELEANOR DABOLL

Eleanor is experienced
In rolling her eyes, you bet;
A mirror might perfect this
And make her quite adept.

Class Gigolette ..... BERNICE HOUGHTON

To "Bunny" goes a medal
For personality plus,
Since every situation
She meets without a fuss.

Class Crooner ..... JOSEPH VIVIANO

We know that Joe loves to sing,
But a song book's not absurd,
For though he has the music learned,
He surely needs the word(s).

Steadiest Couple ..... C. RODDA and E. BULLOCK

A lovely couple both lithe and supple
Joined in partnership,
As over their fingers
These rings will slip.

Will of the Class of January 1935

CHARACTERS

Lawyer: CONRAD KEIDERLING.

Stenographer: RUTH CHURCHILL.

First Class Representative: GEORGE SUPERNANT.

Second Class Representative: RUTH TWITCHELL.

SCENE

The scene takes place in the lawyer's office.

TIME

The present.

LAWYER: Miss Churchill, how far have we gone?

STENOG. (reading from her notes): We, the class of January, 1935, of Technical High School in the city of Springfield, Hampden County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, realizing the uncertainty of life, and being of sound mind, memory, and judgment, do hereby make, declare, and publish this to be our last will and testament, and do earnestly desire that these, our last requests, be carried out as hereinafter directed.

LAWYER: That's fine. Now that we have that much, the next thing is to go on with the body of the will. What do you suggest?

1ST REP.: The departing class, of course, leave their most sincere appreciation and good wishes for the future to their most able advisers, namely, Miss Danforth, Mr. Cowing, and Mr. Lincoln.

LAWYER: You will not, of course, forget your principals?

2ND REP.: No, indeed. To Major Adams and Mr. Parker we leave our best wishes for a long and successful leadership of Springfield's best school.

LAWYER: That's fine. Have you all of that, Miss Churchill?

STENOG.: Yes, sir.

1ST REP.: And not forgetting Mr. Marsh, our late principal, we leave our deepest respect and may he enjoy the success and happiness which is rightfully his after befriending us for two and one half years.

LAWYER: What have you left to the rest of the school staff?

2ND REP.: Let us bequeath to the faculty our undying gratitude for their help in boosting us up another rung of life's ladder in spite of our restlessness, indifference, and chronic palpitations of the tongue.

LAWYER: What about the individual members of the faculty?

1ST REP.: As an added attraction to our fair school, let us leave to the future Strength classes Mr. Paul Marsh and Mr. Perry Best.

LAWYER: What about your class banner?

2ND REP.: We leave the banner to anyone who can make the present holder part with it.

LAWYER: I hear your class has quite a bit of athletic ability.

1ST REP.: Two of our classmates, Thomas Mancuso and Ken Steup, should leave their athletic prowess to Bernard Cook. We all admire Cook's spunk, and hope he'll get over his bumps.

2ND REP.: Seeing our president, Rip Carleton, has only mythical ability as chairman, he can only leave the gavel to Dick Wilson.

LAWYER: Who is the man with the hoarse voice?

1ST REP.: Do you mean George Supernant?

LAWYER: Yes, is he leaving anything?

1ST REP.: He wishes to leave his hoarse laugh to Frank Anzalotti.

LAWYER: I also hear dire things about a certain teacher.

2ND REP.: Oh, you mean the Minnie Club. Well they leave Mr. Best as an honorary member to any group of girls that feel capable of managing him.

1ST REP.: Let me see, who could Bernice Houghton leave her loudness to?

LAWYER: Isn't Molly Peavy in the 12B class?

1ST REP.: Yes.

LAWYER: Then I think that Bernice should leave her loudness to Molly.

2ND REP.: My! Will we ever forget how Allegra Beach used to get away with murder with the teachers.

1ST REP.: Indeed I won't. Especially in Mr. Francis' English 6 class.

2ND REP.: It seems to me that Priscilla Hathaway could use this ability to good advantage. Poor "Pete" is always getting blamed for things she didn't do.

LAWYER: Miss Hill, I am told, has a hard time to get up in the morning.

1ST REP.: All right, we will bequeath her a large noisy alarm clock to quiet her fears of being late.

LAWYER: I have noticed the contrast between some of the students. Couldn't something be done about it?

2ND REP.: Of course, Barbara Humberston and Louise Warner could leave a few inches of their height to Miss Bell and Maxine Parker respectively.

1ST REP.: Joe Viviano has quite an overflow of "IT," hasn't he?

2ND REP.: Yes, and it seems that Robert Elkins needs some of it.

LAWYER: Is everything in order, Miss Churchill?

STENOG.: Yes, Mr. Keiderling, I think I can write them up in the proper form.

LAWYER: Good. Now what is next?

1ST REP.: Have you noticed Elwin Zoerb's irresponsible smile?

2ND REP.: Yes, I think that Bill Hatch could use it, although he never needs it when the girls are around.

LAWYER: What about the girl athletes?

1ST REP.: That's right, too; there's Ruth Twitchell and Ruth Stebbins who could leave their athletic abilities to Alice Smith.

2ND REP.: After years of experience Alice still needs it.

1ST REP.: Let me see, to whom could George Ouellette leave his brilliancy in Math?

2ND REP.: What about Francis Liberatori?

1ST REP.: That's a good suggestion.

2ND REP.: Now here's Virginia Bond, who does everything well. Let's see what we can leave her?

TECH TIGER

1ST REP.: Wasn't Alma Farrar exceptionally good at pottery?

2ND REP.: My! How she could throw clay? And not always into the making of a vase, either, and pottery was the one thing Virginia couldn't do, so Alma wills her ability to "Ginger".

1ST REP.: How about "Bob" Findlater?

2ND REP.: Why doesn't David Mills leave his "all-around" ability to Bob?

LAWYER: Who is that prim young lady in your class?

1ST REP.: Hazel Reilly.

LAWYER: She should leave her primness to Adele Krause? I understand she needs it. Did you get that, Miss Churchill?

STENOG.: Yes, sir.

1ST REP.: Who is the young lady with red hair in Room 23?

2ND REP.: Oh! You mean Inda Hughes. Don't you think she could leave her daily conferences in home room period with Sam Frazer to Pauline Carroll, alias Cleopatra?

1ST REP.: Oh! those eyes she makes at him.

1ST REP.: Victor Ramah is rather aggressive, too, don't you think?

2ND REP.: Yes, he is! Peter Ferrarese needs some of Victor's aggressiveness, so why not give it to him?

1ST REP.: Fine.

LAWYER: Isn't Paul Mazzaferro in your class?

2ND REP.: Oh! You mean the bow tie which goes around with the boy under it!

1ST REP.: Paul should leave his brilliancy to be spread around to the less brilliant undergraduates for generations to come, and his ability to argue with any chairman to Clinton Finch.

1ST REP.: Joe Gallant is rather boisterous, isn't he? And he doesn't need it at all, so he leaves it to Phil Bartlett. If Phil only had a little of his forcefulness Phil could control any meeting.

2ND REP.: Who could use Dorothy Sebring's charming personality?

1ST REP.: I think Kathleen Russell could, don't you?

2ND REP.: Yes, I do.

LAWYER: Who is the class bluffer?

1ST REP.: Philip Kilbride by all means. I think that Bill Prindle should be left Phil's ability to bluff, especially in his "Strength Class."

2ND REP.: Indeed, he should.

1ST REP.: Sidney Shapiro and Nick Petrou sure put over our dances with their clever decorating.

2ND REP.: They certainly did do a good job! Remember our first dance, "La Festa," when they had peach blossoms all over the gym?

1ST REP.: Shouldn't they leave their ability to make the old gym look like a palace instead of a cigar box to the future decorators for the class dances?

2ND REP.: Of course they should, and all the paste, paper, and all the junk that goes with it.

1ST REP.: What about the Tech News? Bob Munn said he'd leave his ability to collect dirt to the future author of "Tiger Gossip."

LAWYER: Are there any further gifts that the class would like to leave? If not, Miss Churchill, will you read the conclusion which we drew up?

STENOG.: The class of January, 1935, leaves Tech with the deepest regrets, and hopes that the incoming classes will fully appreciate the advantages that will be offered by the new addition. We assure you that our memories of Tech are everlasting, and we will never stop cheering for her and praising her.

Prophecy of the Class of January 1935

FILLION: Now, Helen, I hear that you took the morning off the other day and rambled around down-town.

CARROLL: Yes, I did, Bob, and I heard and saw a lot about some of our old class-mates at Tech.

FILLION: Do tell us about some more of our class-mates. The more the merrier.

CARROLL: The first thing that I noticed on Main Street was a huge department store with a sign in brilliant blue lights "Morgan, Woods & Schuster, Inc." There was a footman in a midnight blue and gold uniform, Philip Senk. Helen Bubien and two blond youngsters strolled up to the door and the uniformed personage greeted her with "Good morning Mrs. . ." Crash! An automobile had run into a lamp post and I missed her name. People gathered around the wreck, and not being able to cope with my curiosity I went over with the crowd. The ambulance drove up and Dr. Kernan jumped down followed by a nurse, Lenore Barry, who with the cool kindness of sheets, that soon smoothed away all troubles, carefully attended to Joseph Beaulieu, an engineer, who was hurt. He had a frightful gashed forehead and must have been out of his head, for he started singing. He probably thought that he was "Bing Crosby." There was someone else under the wreck. I wondered who? Ruth Jorgenson, a player in the Springfield Women's Band, crept out "sputtering like a string of firecrackers", but unhurt. Just then a motorcycle officer arrived upon the scene. Who should it be but George Fillion. Here was "a self-made man, who worshiped his creator." Waving his hands as he used to when leading an orchestra, he scattered the mob.

I walked back and entered the store. While sauntering over toward the glove department I saw Winnie Hough engaged in a conversation which "gushed like a cut artery" with Harry LaBroad. It looked like the same old Harry—still as "impartial as a traffic light."

I felt that I needed a wave, (not a farewell wave). Entering the beauty salon whom should I see but Betty Boranni giving Henry Perkins "who now has a mustache like a shadow of a coming event," a manicure. The head girl, Caroline Perry, who was chattering like a magpie but none the less in a very business-like way directed me to the chair. After having sat until the chair and I were almost inseparable, I was escorted into a small stall, by bustling Marilyn Moody, who told me I was next. I glanced at a magazine article and saw Edith Wright's name. Looking more closely, it gave a description of her voice as "a beautiful soprano, who fits into the silence, instead of breaking it."

Hurrying to the dress department, I collided with Doris Walker, a society woman, who fluttered to me to guide my steps. I should never have known by her name that we had been in the same class. I was waited on by Margaret LaFountain, a woman with a liberal mouth of cheery corners. She told me that she was supporting a husband and three children! What a woman! She has a home where everything is run by a switch, even the children.

I had lunch with Mona Bartols, who runs a riding school. We ate at Petrou's & Kyriacou's exclusive "Chop & Flop House" where we were waited upon by Fred Profiglio—the handsome waiter. Richard LaBarre was serving as bus-boy. He seemed to be on very good terms with the hat check girl, Marion Smith, who always "short circuits the conversation" when talking.

Velma Burgland, a reporter on the William D. Gour Scandal Sheet, was accompanied by two dashing young men, one of whom was Robert Martin as we guessed by his dance steps and Charlie Chaplin ways. I had a dentist appointment at 1:30, so I regretfully left the company of Mona, who was going to see Barbara Marsh, a leading club woman and costume suggester.

Arriving at the Holger White Building at 1:15, I took the elevator conducted by Emily Poole. On the third floor we picked up Rita Boucher who told me that she took care of the marketing for some prominent families in the city. Some fun! Finally we reached the 205th floor. Entering the office of John G. Mahan, "Painless Dentist" I encountered Kirtland Carto, a travelling salesman for the Fuller Brush Co. Looking out the window, guess whom I saw swinging into view? Ed Dix about to start washing the very window I was looking through. A second man on the flying trapeze? Eh what! He completely obstructed my view and I saw no more of the class of 1935.

History of the Class of June 1935

THE MONTH was September 1932. The day was pleasingly warm and sunny when our ship, the Technical "S. S. 35", embarked on its three-year trip down the river of High School Life to the sea of the Future.

A tour of inspection of the lower deck showed us groups of pale-looking youngsters leaning over the rails watching their reflections in the calm sea, but the students could not be compared with the water for they really were all upset inside.

The first part of the trip was spent in getting used to class "state-rooms" and the stately teachers inside of them. When we were on our second lap of the first year at sea we were told by our nautical advisers, Miss Swenson, Mr. Fitzroy and Mr. Mackenzie, that it was "high tide" we choose a Captain and mates for our ship. Richard Wilson was raised to first watch of "Captain Dick" and Ruth Leonard to the position of first mate, while Claire Crandall and Bernard Cook were chosen as second and third mates respectively.

Under the skilful direction of our ship's officers, our Constitution was adopted. We then settled down to a quiet seafaring life which was soon upset by rumors of a coming social, to take place at our next disembarkment, April 26, 1933. This social was successfully managed by Sam Whittlesey.

Now that the first year of our sea voyage was over, another year was soon to begin as we reached a cooler climate. Just as soon as we gained our "sea legs" again, Mr. Fitzroy stressed his command for the S. A. and as our crew would be the first one to sail for three years under the articles of this new Association, we were all willing to give it a thorough test.

Our next disembarkment was Nov. 17, 1933 at League Park, where the Tech Tiger was playing a game of football with the Cathedral Purple. To celebrate the loss of this game we held our "Touchdown Frolic" that night and even though our game was lost, our dance was won under Chairman Donald Snow.

The south balmy winds began blowing again as we left this last port for our next destination. The Captain still remained the same, Richard Wilson, and the same mates weighed the anchor.

The tropical breezes still blew as we neared our day of excitement — the Junior Prom. This time we decided to stay on second deck, which we had advanced to in our second year of high sea life, and to dedicate the Prom to our good ship, the "S. S. 35". April 20, 1934, was the date set and the "Old Salt", James Nolan, was in charge of the evening's entertainment. Our class banner of black and gold was hung as decoration. These colors had been chosen by the crew under Danny Webster's order.

While the remodeling of our third deck was taking place, the large assembly room there was not available, so many of our crew meetings were postponed or held in the dining halls. The last lap of our voyage was now under way and Mr. Fitzroy still represented the S. A. Dick Wilson still held command as Captain, but first and third mates changed hands to Sarkis Sedarian and James Nolan respectively. Claire Crandall still retained the office of Second Mate.

The next social function was the "Mistletoe Mingle" with Harold Kropf as chairman. The mistletoe and the Christmas tree made the atmosphere perfect.

Arriving at our last term, we had to choose committees. The Arm-band Committee, with George Husson as chairman, adopted an attractive emblem for the seniors to wear. Pictures were taken, rings and pins ordered, ballots passed around, plans for Class day and night, prom and banquet were arranged by able leaders. At this time our new gym was completed and to christen it we gave our "Presentation Prom", a huge success with Stafford Morrison as Chairman.

Now, at Graduation, our cruise on the Good Ship "S. S. 35" terminates at Port Future, many of the crew wondering why our pleasant cruise has ended so soon.

JEAN GRANGER

Class Historian

CLASS WILL — June 1935

We, the class of thirty-five,
Being quite sane, alert and alive
Make this will as we leave with tears
This school where we've spent the last few years.
We hereby leave our sincerest thanks
To teachers who have endured our pranks;
To our principals an acclamation
Of our deepest appreciation,
And to the school a brand new dime
For having the windows washed sometime.
Phil Bartlett bequeaths his executive fame
To a rising young fellow, Bill Gibson, by name.
Doris Bissaillon leaves her A's
To Doris Teagan for trying days.
Marjorie Flynn leaves her curly hair
To Edith Plouffe whose curls are rare.
Stafford Morrison leaves with regret
His perfumed personality to Arthur Bousquet.
To Dorothy Jury, that little mite,
Molly Peavy leaves her height.
Doris Graichen bequeaths her size
To Betty Wheeler who's otherwise.
Sarkis Sedarian leaves his gameness
To ease Doug McLeod's soccer lameness.
Margaret Fenton leaves real rosy cheeks
To Virginia Habel; they'll last for weeks.
To Wanda Urbanowicz's mirrored reflection,
"Ginger" Hartwell leaves well-groomed perfection.
Ferrarese leaves his arguing ways
To Kirsch for more victorious days.
Barb. Hathaway leaves the G. A. A.
To any capable future 12A.
Adele Krause leaves her perpetual noise
To balance quiet Polly Nelme's poise.
Arthur Morin, whose work we applaud,
Leaves to Crosby his traffic squad.
Ruth Leonard leaves her studiousness
To Eleanor Kibbe, that promising miss.
The cartooning gift of Thomas Powers
Goes to Ruth Forbush for study hours.
To brighten Marion Nadle's face
Thelma Lawrence leaves smiling grace.
And "Al" Smith leaves her "Soviet Plan"
For passing to "Al" Donovan.
In conclusion we "will devisors"
Leave our thanks to class advisers
Who've helped us all to toe the mark,
And lead us thru when things looked dark.

Prophecy of the Class of June 1935

"THIS IS Station 1-9-4-5, broadcasting from the Arnold-Kropp Hotel in Springfield, Mass. We now continue with our program and switch you to the Exposition Grounds where the 'Biggest Circus in the Country' is now in progress."

"Hello, everyone! This is Pete Ferrarese, your local news reporter, about to bring you at this time a ring by ring description of this great, stupendous Webster and Nash Circus! The band is starting up now under the skilled direction of Ernie Ljunggren, and here comes the parade led by none other than the new mayor-elect, Dick Wilson. As usual, that confidential secretary of his, Ruth Leonard, is with him! You know, they say that if it weren't for her, he would never have been elected mayor! You remember Dick's platform, folks? 'A cap and gown for every high school grad.' Say, those five hundred kids, who by the way had free admittance tickets, namely Don Machia and four hundred and ninety-nine others, certainly are enjoying the capers of the Powers' Clown Troupe, while others stand in awe of Helen Zaslona's great snake charming act. There's no need to worry, folks, for Dr. Husson and his capable assistant, Jean Graner, are in constant attendance.

"Well, well, well, look who's here! The oldest married couple known to be living (happily living, anyway)! John Peters and Barbara Phillips, and neither one of them looks a day over ninety, but — here comes the big feature, 'The Man on the Flying Trapeze', none other than Earl Stahl. Say, Earl, will you step up and tell the folks how you keep in such condition?"

"Sure will, Pete! Well, it's dis way, I yam what I yam because I takes me 'Thelma Lawrence's Diet Tablet' every day! So long."

"Thanks, Earl. And there he goes up to the top. Good luck, boy, you need it! And what a setting the Hartwell Interior Decorators have made for these aerial artists! Boy, oh boy! Oh, and by the way, the costumes were designed and made exclusively by the Peavy Style Co. We certainly have a snappy looking show.

"This is quite a strain on my voice, folks, so will you pardon me while I light one of those cooling 'Steup' cigarettes? — There, now I feel better. You know it beats me how that barker, George Pavloglou, can yell his head off the whole afternoon and still he's not as hoarse as I am.

"Well, back to the show. The middle ring is now occupied by Bill Jacques, the great strongman, who is now performing the stupendous feat of holding Max Parker above his head! He's only using one hand, too, folks! Max certainly has plenty of dodging to do, as Clinton Finch and Barbara Hathaway are also demonstrating their skill in boomerang throwing.

"While I think of it folks, if you can you ought to make the trip over here and see Adele Krause's trained horses and also Claire Crandall's collection of elephants. They, alone, are worth the price of admission. (The animals, I mean!)

"Here comes that big business man, Stafford (Oh, you miser you) Morrison. Will you say a few words to the listeners, Staff?"

"Sure! Brother can you spare a dime?"

"Thank you Mr. Morrison, that is fine! You all know that Mr. Morrison is now up in the money and so he now has to hire two bodyguards, Gay Knapp and Zeke Crowther. If he keeps on earning or chiseling money, he'll be needing more very soon."

"I've seen a lot of the old gang, today! Art Morin, now a member of a brain trust, Bill Handy and Franny Harling, popular screen stars, and James Nolan, Secretary of the Treasury, have all been up and said 'Hello' to me today."

"Just at present two cops, Al Brown and Carlton Clark, are chasing an old maid, and it looks like none other than Gert Leytham, who persisted in getting in for the children's fare.

"Phil Bartlett, our ring master, is now introducing to this vast audience Sedarian and Stagnaro's trained seals, who are making their debut today. These seals are said to be the first ever to play soccer. Well, if they play anything like their masters, they'll have to have iron heads, too."

"Say, listen to this! Sitting right down here in front of me is Jerry Collins who has recently been appointed truant officer for the city schools. They say Jerry knows his work thoroughly. Well, he ought to! Practice makes perfect, you know. He still seems to be in favor of Tech girls for there is Freda Dickson right beside him. Freda is now a society reporter, probably carefully studying the details of Dorothy Gay's stunning frock, for her write-up in the Society Gossip column of the local newspaper, now under the able editorship of Eddie Armstrong."

"As a final act we have some Hawaiian dancers! What is this I see! Featuring Libby Currier — with Dick Tindal and Harry Streeter lending an appropriate atmosphere, playing their guitars!"

"And now, I guess that's about all, radio fans, and in closing may I say, when you feel down and out try a bottle of Dick Johnson's refreshing 'Laugh Tonic.'

"So long folks, I'll be seein' ya! We now return you to the broadcasting station."

"This is station 1-9-4-5. You have just been enjoying (we hope) the revue of 'our great circus'. This concludes our broadcast and good-bye until we meet again. Your announcer is Lenny Smith."

Student Council

THE Council consists of representatives chosen by the students in their respective homerooms. As a group it is their duty to see that all transactions carried on at the meetings are reported to the rest of the school, thus aiding in making our school a more efficient one.

One of the outstanding achievements of this year's Council has been the consolidation, under the head of a Student Patrol, of three former units, namely, the Traffic Squad, Lunchroom Squad, and Corridor Guard. Another project to be completed in the fall is a revised edition of the Tech Handbook, designed for Freshmen.

Junior Pro Merito

THE first Junior Pro Merito Society was formed in Technical High School about eight years ago. Since that time, almost every member High School in the state has formed its Junior Pro Merito Society. All members of the 10A, 11B, and 11A classes who maintain general averages of eighty-five per cent are members of the Club. They enjoy special privileges similar to those granted to the members of the Senior Pro Merito Society.

Orchestra

THE Tech Orchestra has again proven itself to be of the same high standard that past Tech Orchestras have enjoyed. Their greatest contribution and accomplishment was the inter-high school symphony orchestra. Joining forces with the other high school orchestras two concerts were given at the Municipal Auditorium.

Only the finest music is played by our group and members have become familiar with the works of the masters.

Band

STARTING four years ago with a group of eight boys the "Tech Band" has grown to be one of "Tech's" outstanding organizations. This accomplishment is more noteworthy when we realize that most of its members have never received any instructions other than that given here at school by their director, Mr. Woodbury.

Each year they appear many times before various civic organizations and have always brought credit to their school. They have entered State and New England Contests for the past three years and have the reputation of never returning without some prize or award.

This year the band entered the State Contest at Quincy as well as the New England Finals at Newport, R. I. A home and home concert with Providence was also enjoyed.

Members Not Present—Jean Granger, Helen Combs, Norah Hannigan, Virginia St. Pierre, Mae Goss.

Chorus

*A*LTHOUGH this group is rather a new one they have not failed to earn some of the honors annually won by our musical clubs.

Our graduation chorus has always brought the highest praise from local music lovers.

This year our Glee Club journeyed to Quincy to take part in the Massachusetts Music Festival.

Chorus is open to all students who wish to learn how to sing.

Motion Picture Appreciation Club

AFFILIATED with the National High School Motion Picture clubs is the Motion Picture Appreciation club of Tech, still in its infancy, having been in existence only a little over one school year. However, its benefits and activities are becoming far-reaching. As far as we know this organization is the first of its kind in the state. The purpose of this club is for the promotion and appreciation of finer motion pictures. This aim is accomplished through an intensive study of pictures recommended by the National Council of Teachers of English, involving research work on literary production, plot, ideals and attitudes, photography, music, etc.

The club has been recognized by several organizations, such as Motion Picture Councils and Parent-Teachers organizations, and has been pleased to accept invitations to demonstrate its work not only in Springfield but in nearby towns and cities.

The club was very fortunate in having for its first president Stanley Bartlett, who has been on location in Hollywood. Gerald Collins has proved an able successor. The adviser is Miss Elizabeth Bell.

The club now has an active membership of over forty.

Athenaeum

ATHENAEUM is an honorary English Club consisting of twenty-five girls who have attained an average of eighty-five per cent or higher in English. The purpose of this club is to study poets, poetry, plays, and playwrights. Besides educational programs, Athenaeum has its social side. An initiation party is held once each semester for new members. At the end of each school year Athenaeum girls enjoy an outing.

The club has as its adviser Miss Leta Young.

Student Patrol

IN order to secure a higher efficiency and cooperation between them, the Traffic, Lunchroom and Corridor Squads have been combined, forming the "Technical High Student Patrol." However, each squad has its own regulations governing that task for which they are responsible. The Lunchroom Squad is responsible for orderliness in the lunchroom; the Corridor Squad patrols the corridors while classes are in session; and the Traffic Squad secures order in passing between classes. The Student Patrol is advised by Mr. William Clancy, and has Arthur Morin and William Gibson as president and secretary respectively.

Tech News

TECH News puts out sixteen issues annually all of which are managed, written, and edited by Tech students. Peter Ferrarese, editor-in-chief, has charge of all editorials and the make-up of the first page. The second page written by Margaret Carroll is composed largely of club news, "Tiger Gossip", "Contributed Crax", and a few editorials. Norman Miller is in charge of the sport write-ups which cover most of the third page. The business end is managed by Freda Dickson and the advertising by Maxine Parker. All issues of the Tech News are given free to the members of the Student Association, otherwise the subscription rates are fifty cents a semester.

The members of the Tech News staff are as follows:

Forum

CON passing by Room 10 during a Forum meeting, one can hear a suave voice about to release an effective stroke when "My honorable opponent states that.... but...." is heard. Tech's oldest society is composed of that small scholarly body of students who have attained an eighty-five per cent average in English. This club has successfully retained the Jack Elmer Trophy, awarded to the winner of an annual debate between the Forum and Comitia. Any student aspiring for perfection in rhetoric and debating may achieve this object by becoming a member of the Forum. The adviser is Mr. Cyrus Jones.

Red Cross Club

THE Junior Red Cross Club of Technical High School is a branch of the International Red Cross. This club consists of boys and girls who are interested in the well-being of others. The Red Cross Club is divided into various units each having its own special work. These units are international correspondence, dramatics, first aid, and music. The faculty adviser of the club is Miss Sadie J. Swenson.

Le Salon

AS its name implies, Le Salon is Tech's French Club. If you can convince your teacher that you speak French well enough to maintain a "B" average, you may be fortunate enough to receive an invitation to join this club. At the meetings the members become acquainted with French conversation, customs, modes of living, and literature. The adviser is Mr. Howard Mitchell.

Comitia

FORUM'S rival of old is the Comitia, a somewhat younger society.

It is composed of those students who are interested in public speaking but who do not reach the Forum's scholarship requirements. The Comitia at present is bustling with preparations for the debate with the Forum for the Jack Elmer Trophy. The Comitia lost the last time the debate took place but has high hopes, with newly acquired talent, of capturing the Trophy.

G. A. A.

THIE Girls' Athletic Association is the largest organization for girls in Tech. It is affiliated with the Student Association so that members of the latter belong also to the G. A. A. Any girl not a member of the Student Association can belong to the G. A. A. by making a payment of twenty-five cents for a membership ticket at the beginning of each semester.

This organization provides social activities for the girls as well as supporting the athletic program. The social activities include parties, picnics, sports days, and semi-annually, the initiation parties for the freshmen.

Hockey

HOKEY, one of the most thrilling sports at Tech, was well greeted last fall by girl sportsters and the glorious outcome was an unbeaten season. About thirty girls turned out, enough for three teams. The teams practised the first few weeks learning the fundamentals of the game, and then first and second teams played other high school teams for a total of ten games. Nine were won and one was tied.

Basketball

THIS year about sixty girls, an unusually large number, participated in Basketball, one of the most popular sports at Tech for girls. After a few weeks of practice, a tournament was conducted in which nine teams, five freshmen, and four junior and senior, took part. The season lasted from November 22 to March 22. The junior and senior teams were coached by Miss Whittemore, the freshmen teams by Miss Katherine Long.

Tennis and Baseball

SPRING Sports, baseball and tennis, are followed by many girls every year. During the spring months groups of air-minded girls can be seen at the Armory Grounds and at Forest Park developing their skill on the baseball diamond and tennis courts. Last Spring, for the first time a Sports Day was organized by the three high schools to be held at the Armory grounds. June 4, 5, 6, 1934 were the dates set and each class of Freshmen, Juniors, and Seniors had a team in Baseball, Volley Ball, and Tennis. The final scores were Commerce 24, Tech 16, Classical 14.

Sports Club

THIS is a club for girls who are interested in all kinds of out door and in door sports. Some of its popular activities are hiking, cooking out doors, bicycling and roller skating. During the winter months the girls enjoy ice skating, skiing, tobogganning and sliding. The Springfield College Indian Camp is often the scene of its varied activities. Usually an over night hike closes the year's program.

Football

ANOTHER Tech football team to the top! Again the Orange and Black under the expert leadership of Kenneth Steup and the unexcelled coaching of Chief Walmer, waded through all opposition to win six games and tie one. Although scores were not as high as last season's, the opposing teams were by far stronger. The Tiger's aerial attack was so far famed that every foe had a sure-fire way to break it up, but still it functioned to win games for us. Our next-door neighbors, the scrappy Cathedral combine, marred our otherwise perfect record by holding us to a scoreless tie. We took over the Inter-school title, the Inter-city title, and were named Western Massachusetts Champions by one newspaper.

Soccer

SOCCER? Oh yes, Tech nearly always has a good soccer team. This year proved no exception as the boys with the educated feet, stepped out to win one victory after another until the final totals revealed five victories and two ties. Three games were lost, these going to Classical, Ludlow, and Commerce. This team was captained by Charlie Stagnaro and coached by Mr. Stout.

Hockey

AFTER a four year lay off, hockey has once more become an organized inter-school sport. As though to make up for lost time, the Tigers hastily welded themselves together into a fine team which glided over the ice twelve times to return with the "bacon" on ten of these occasions. This combine was coached to the City and Western Massachusetts Championship honors by Mr. Parker and Mr. Clancy.

Basketball

THIS Basketball season was not a victorious one for Tech., however, we must consider that "Chief" Walmer had to deal with new athletes and was at the same time handicapped by the lack of a home court. "Chief" predicts that with the new gymnasium and a fine veteran team, we shall have a successful season next year.

In the opening week we lost one game and won one. The boys were beaten by the strong, well-groomed Greenfield nine but redeemed themselves by routing Cathedral.

1. From any possible hiding place the photographer takes his pictures. Result: he was unable to come to school the next day.
2. These girls are certainly enjoying themselves. We wonder why there are bees hovering in the foreground, though.
3. Kenneth Tuttle and Mae P. Speight joining the Easter Parade . . . eating peanuts. Kenneth is the president of the class of 1932.

1. Alas, poor Yorick, we knew him! We are overwhelmed with grief to say more. So what?
2. Future size of freshman students. Yes, you may compare them physically and mentally to Shirley Miller; in fact if you get a microscope you might be able to locate her in this picture.
3. It might take five fellows to set the instrument up, but it took only one to kick one of its legs and set it down.
4. A landmark along the journey through "Lovers' Lane". Bud Rodda and Eleanor Bullock.

4. Alyce Farmer and her "friend" resting on the Bridge of Sighs. What! Must she pat her own cheek? Well, the photographer can't wait.
5. Quick! Call the keeper; someone has left the cage open.
6. Trumpets sound, two heralds step aside, and behold—Martha appears!
7. "Give me leave for I want to be myself." Eddie Cignoni could not resist the temptation of the inviting sand.
8. We wish to donate this cannon to the Rifle Club.

Optical illusion

Miracle of miracles, most unusual thing to happen: Peter Ferrarese returning borrowed money. If our eyes deceive us not, we might still hope to get back at least part of the borrowed money. But, alas, Eddie Armstrong couldn't get hold of that coin, so we are obliged to say that we gave Pete the money and did not lend it to him. Of course, this does not include the dimes he supposedly won from "Bob" Munn, Eddie, Stafford Morrison, and others by— we'll say, by playing. So, Pete, you might be gone but not forgotten, even though you forgot our money.

Pictures

With the coming of Spring there is a comotion mornings and afternoons in front of our building. Every one tried to look nice, but (this is a secret) Mr. Bosworth is planning to sue the TECH TIGER to defray the cost of the lenses broken. Should we lose the TIGER will be so lame financially that for the next ten years it will have to abide within its shelter and ponder over this year's bad luck. "Now, stay still for just one second." Yeah, but which second.

How do I look?

Sidney Shapiro of the January Class. After several attempts to write a list of the rightful owners of everything he so prominently displays, we gave it up, but let it be said that only the nose belongs to "Chick". How different one would be to have a piece of his sniffer in a jewelry case after an operation. Sidney, we are looking forward to a reunion where you will display such a trophy. For now, we might say that Sidney was the one-man committee of every dance of his class, and he surely made it look as if the committee numbered ten hardworking students.

Here I am!

What is this? A Techite in her infancy. Her name is—well, look at her. She stands up and, holding her ground, recites Lincoln's Gettysburg Address; for she is very smart in history. Do you recognize her? We promised Eleanor we wouldn't print her name, so we can't tell you who she is; however, if you are smart even though you have no clues (?) you might be able to guess. O, yes, she is still a blond and belongs to the class of January '36.

Thomas Gagliardo

These are times that try men's souls. Tom takes a sniff of the spring air while he has to stay in the Tech News office, but it might have been worse. That's one advantage of belonging to the staff. You go in there for a period or two and enjoy leaning out of the window without running the risk of being caught. By the way, it's not a hangman's noose surrounding Gagliardo's neck—yet, this is only a curtain cord.

After school

Everyone looked happy (except Bob) in this picture. Why? Another day of hard labor has been completed just when we begin to get spring fever. Who's the girl Bill Connory is talking to? No it's not Betty. She hails from the school formally known as Central but now called the Springfield Classical High School of Springfield, Massachusetts, Hampden County, U. S. A. (No offense Marie.) We are still wondering what Carolyn Arnold is laughing at.

Antique department

We admit we failed. We tried to show the thing the boys are standing in front of in its true form, but due to a defect in our camera, it does look like a real automobile. The fellows seem to guard it for Carolyn Arnold but it's quite unnecessary, because if anyone tried to steal it he would be heard within a radius of 5279.9 feet—not to say a mile.

Baby days

Some more? It had been a family custom for their parents to send them to Tech High; however, every family has a black sheep, and so Marie strayed from the flock and went to Classical (Let me see, which is Marie) Baby number one from the right was so cute a baby that her parents, wishing to keep her so, sought the old fairy who satisfied their desire. Up to this day, she glides through our corridors still the same baby, only her physical aspect is different. Baby number two is the black sheep. Baby number three is the girl who made flowers for her class dance and worked on the class banner. Baby number four is — don't you recognize her?
